Hudson River, Anger to Anthony's Nose.

Descriptive Report

In making this survey, for the purpose of furnishing shore line for the hydrographic sheet, the old shore line was first transferred in pencil from tracings sent from the office. The shore line was then carefully examined and wherever new wharfs or other changes were noticed a new survey was made.

On Iona Island the Navy Department is making extensive improvements and many new buildings are in course of erection but the work is still incomplete. The engineers in charge have plans on a large scale showing all changes, which can be procured from the Dept. when the work is finished and transferred to the topographic sheet. The new wharf line and the position of the small light at the north end and the large rain tower is indicated on the sheet.

Respectfully submitted
